The Red Sox lead the series 3-1 and if they win tonight's game they will win the World Series. It is expected that if the Red Sox win, there will be large, spontaneous celebrations throughout the City. The vast majority of these celebrations will be joyous events for fans but also it is almost certainly expected to attract over-exuberant fans and individuals wishing to take advantage of the celebration to engage in acts of vandalism and reckless behavior that endangers themselves and others.

The Department will protect the rights of Red Sox fans who wish to peacefully celebrate the victory. The Department and our Law Enforcement partners will ensure that fans are able to celebrate but will not tolerate disorder, property destruction, reckless behavior that endangers the actor or other individuals.

Due to the magnitude of the event, the Boston Police Department will be assisted by several state and regional agencies that will be playing a supporting role with the BPD acting as the led agency.

IV. CONCEPT OF OPERATION

Unified Command Center

The Department will manage this special multi-agency event utilizing the Incident Command System (ICS). Use of ICS will allow the different agencies and disciplines to coordinate their activities through the use of common terminology, common goals and objectives, and unity of command.

A Unified Command structure will be utilized with Superintendent William B. Evans serving as the Incident Commander. The Operations Section Chief, Deputy Superintendent Bernard O'Rourke, is responsible for all operational missions, administrative tasks and management of all personnel assigned to the event within the designated Zones. The Operations Section Chief reports directly to the Incident Commander.

The Incident Commanders intent is to (1) confine the celebrations in the smallest possible area within the boundaries of street closures in the area of Fenway Park/Kenmore Sq, Hemenway St., Faneuil Hall, Harvard Ave. and Brighton Ave., (2) maintain public order, (3) maintain traffic control, (4) prevent violations of the law. The Incident Commander's intent will be manifested by a very visible presence of uniformed personnel in soft uniform. Units will be assigned to walk through the crowds encouraging people to celebrate in a congratulatory but non-destructive manner. A very visible presence will be maintained along the perimeter of event areas. POP platoons will stage in close proximity to their assigned operational areas.

The Unified Command structure will achieve the following:

- Support and coordinate multi-agency planning;
- Unity of Command with one Unified Commander, with Deputies from involved agencies and disciplines, who will implement the plan;
- Allow agencies with public safety responsibilities to be part of the Unified Command.

The Unified Command Center (UCC) will be located in the Boston Police Command Center, 1 Schroeder Plaza. The UCC shall integrate and coordinate all public safety agencies and assets dedicated to the event.

- SWAT
- EOD
- HAZMAT
- K-9 Units
- Field Intelligence Units

The Boston Regional Intelligence Center (BRIC) will be located within the TOC. The BRIC shall coordinate the collection of all intelligence data coming to the TOC, analyze the data, and disseminate the intelligence product to the UCC and Zone Commanders.

A Boston Police Commander will be assigned as a liaison to all outside agencies POP.

The TOC structure will ensure chain of command, command responsibility, and the safety and welfare of both the general public and public safety personnel.

Superintendent Paul Fitzgerald shall command the Special Management Group.

C. Field Command

To facilitate the delivery of public safety services the City has been subdivided into operational zones. Each zone will have its own command structure and commander. Quick Response Squads (QRS) will be assigned to each zone commander and are under his command for deployment. QRS are to remain highly visible and alert to potential problems within their respective zones.

Zone Commanders are responsible for all operational missions and administrative tasks within the contiguous areas of their designated Zone.
